110th BATT. MAN TELLS HOW COULDER WAS KILLED AND COL. PEARSON WOUNDED

The following letter to Mrs. Coulter tells of her son's death and Col. Pearson's severe wound.

Dear Mrs. Coulter—The War Office will have sent particulars (thru Ottawa) of your son's death ere this reaches you. I thought I would write to you as an officer of D Co., 110th Batt., 252d Bn. A. L. First, W. M. Coulter was killed instantly by a shell on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 17. It was just after tea and he was down by the company field kitchen when the shell came over which caused his death. It was about ten o'clock when two other shells came over and caused five other casualties in the Coy. And I might add that when the C.O. was returning to B. H. 2 other shells were dropped in our area. Capt. Oak of the Headquarters, and Capt. Broad, second in command of C. Coy. were killed by one of those. Col. Pearson, Commanding Officer of the 110th Batt., was severely hit in the arm and abdomen, but we all sincerely hope that he will pull through. His condition is favorable. Most of the wounded were at the same time. There were 21 casualties the day caused by the shelling. Although I have been with this Coy. a comparatively short time I got to know the men pretty well and your son was in touch with me quite a bit. We recently appointed Lewis Don N.O. for the Coy. and held the rank of acting sergeant. He had come through orders the day he was killed as being confirmed in the rank of Corporal, and had been hard at work with the guns, getting them in shape again, since we came out of the line on the 12th. He was bright and cheerful at all times and always took a sensible line in whatever his duties might be, especially the Lewis Gun work. A man like this, of course, is missed very much.

The four bodies were laid at rest the following morning a little back of the line in a British cemetery. There were quite a good number from the Battalion attended the funeral service. Sgt. Collis, who I was talking to in his afternoon, has his little personal things which he said he would send on as soon as possible.

Yours very truly,
J. P. Frickeles, Lieut.
Dear Mrs. Coulter—I am sending you a message of sympathy on behalf of some of us who were comrades of your son. Will, whose death came as a painful shock to all who knew and respected him. I will be some comfort to you to know that practically his last act was to help carry a wounded comrade out. I was told by a man standing near him when he was killed, that he very last thought was concerning the safety of those around him. Your own sorrow at the loss of so brave a son as Will is too sacred for me to intrude upon, but I do want you to know that the memory of his life and death will remain as an inspiration to us, whose duty it is to carry on, until the day for the right, in which cause Will sacrificed his life. I won't come in touch with your son quite a bit in connection with his work, and admired his quiet loyalty to duty. I was for some time in the same company with him, and knowing him so well, I should like to send you a message of sympathy in your loss. It is very hard to see these brave fellows thus cut off in the flower of their young manhood, but we believe that they have not sacrificed their lives in vain, and that this life is but the beginning of a greater and richer hereafter. May God strengthen and comfort you as He alone can do in our days of darkness and suffering. It is because we know the battle is for the cause that many of us are here, to live or die as He may choose, in carrying out our duty. I am shared to return to Toronto with my wife and have an opportunity of visiting Oshawa. I shall look to call and see you to give you any little incidents concerning dear Will. With kind regards from the boys and myself, again assuring you of our sincere sympathy, believe me, I am, yours very sincerely,
Reg. Boyce

WOULD USE MASONIC ORDER TO CALL OFF THE DOGS OF WAR

The Christian Science Monitor prints the following rather sensational article regarding the German attempt to use the great Masonic Order to spread war.

It may be well to direct the attention of the authorities at Washington to the fact that an important congress was held at Berlin during the closing week of July, of the Grand Masters and chief dignitaries of the Grand Lodge of Free Masons of Germany, Austria-Hungary, Turkey, Bulgaria and Finland. Of course the proceedings were secret. But in view of the attention showered upon the delegates by the Kaiser, by the members of his government, there is every reason to believe the reports, according to which it appears the congress was convened at the instance of the Kaiser for the purpose of organizing some concerted action by the Free Masons of the Central Powers in the direction of the Free Masons of the Entente countries, with a view to peace propaganda.

The article goes on to say there is dread in Germany at the proclaimed intention of the Entente and the United States to wage the war to a finish, and that the Kaiser is endeavoring by every means in his power to avert this calamity, which will involve the overthrow of his dynasty. Peace officers of various kinds have been inaugurated, the use of the Masonic Order being one method, and the employment of the Voluntas another. The attention of George Fleming Moore, Sovereign Grand Commander of the Grand Council, Southern Jurisdiction, of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, and the Mother Supreme Council of the World, was called to the German Masonic Council. He authorized the Christian Science Monitor to make his statement for him.

"The true Free Masons of the United States do not desire to aid in the overthrow of any kind of government, except such a one as shall meet the full approval of the Government of the United States and shall be in accord with the principles laid down by President Wilson in discussing the subject. Nor will Free Masons consent to become propagandists of any ideas which are contrary to the fundamental principles on which our Government is founded, for these principles are identical with those of Free Masonry."

By way of explaining the relationship between the Masons of the United States and the United Kingdom and those of Germany, the publicly given the purpose of the German congress readers it necessary to make a fact of history in this connection. It is a fact that the article has been known to only a few Masons, the world, much less to the public.

In the early days of the war, before Germany had had time to become a national policy, before the terrible carnage, before the Lusitania was sunk and before the world was dropped upon the innocents in London, the Grand Master of one of the leading Grand Lodge Jurisdictions of Masonry in the United States wrote a letter to the Grand Masters of Germany. It was a fraternal letter, such as is tendered in language. It proposed that the German Grand Lodge consent to a reciprocal arrangement whereby British and French Masons prisoners of war be recognized as Masons, and that German Mason prisoners be similarly recognized by the British and French. It was not intended that Masonic prisoners should be given favors not accorded to ordinary prisoners, but they were to receive similar status, and to be put on the shoulder to signify that fraternity still survive even in the stress of war.

FINISH YOUR DEEP

The Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Agriculture, calls upon Canadian farmers to finish their best animals for market. Too many light weight animals have been shipped to Europe. It is of the greatest importance, says Mr. Crerar, that our farmers should make every effort to keep their stock before marketing, so long as space for trans-Atlantic cargoes is as limited as it is present. The British Ministry of Food will pay top prices only for bacon which is cut from select hogs, weighing between 100 and 250 lb., live weight. The best carcasses, in order to be favorably considered, should weigh at least 200 lb.

An Urgent Appeal to all Telephone Users

The Spanish Influenza has caused a very serious shortage in our operating staff.

In order to insure prompt and efficient handling of important Government calls and calls to physicians dealing with the epidemic, the public is requested:

1. To make only the most urgent and necessary calls.
2. To refrain, as far as possible, from special appeals to managers whose entire time should be given to the supervision of their central offices.
3. To show consideration of those operators who, despite their increased tasks necessitating overtime work, are loyally giving of their best endeavors.

This is a frank statement of the conditions. We are confident that only a word to the public in such a situation is necessary.

ENFIELD

It was a great shock to the neighborhood and vicinity to hear the sad news of the untimely death of Mr. Alex Smith, 141, who died at the village on Saturday, Oct. 19th, in his 67th year. Mr. Smith was highly respected by a large number of friends, neighbors and acquaintances. When a young man in 1850 he was married to Miss Elizabeth Evans of Toronto, and started farming on the farm "Bromfield" lot 41, on S. 1st Street, on which he spent the remainder of his life. He made farming a great business, was a successful and successful property. Some years ago he erected a very fine residence on the site started building on a cottage and became a most successful scientific spirit and at the time of his death had 175 acres in road shape for the winter. Although brought up a Presbyterian he was a very regular attendant and supporter of the church here and responded liberally to every good cause and will be much missed. In politics he was a staunch Liberal. He and his husband and a good provider for his family, leaving a large family of four sons, Wm., Fred, Arthur and Leonard, and two daughters, Mrs. P. T. Guy, South, Wm., and Mrs. R. Smith, Columbus, and one brother, Mr. John Smith, Ontario. The funeral which was private, was held last Monday afternoon, Rev. E. A. Tomlin, Bowmanville, conducted the service and read a very beautiful address. The interment took place in the Union Cemetery, Oshawa. The pall bearers were his three sons and three nephews. Those of his sons—Wm. G. Fred F. (on the homestead) and Arthur F. East Whitley, were all set up on their own, fully equipped and stocked.

KIAKI UNIVERSITY

Through such branch it will be responsible to the Minister of Overseas Forces, and to the Canadian Government, not including separation allowance.

When will it end?

Thousands upon thousands, endless thousands, hold their lives cheap as the price of Victorious Peace.

And we—as we watch from afar their heroic efforts—may we be able to say, that the little we at home could do, we have done;

—that in so far as we could support them, lighten their burdens, bring them comforts, we have done it;

—that we have striven unceasingly to shorten their stay in the Hun-made Hell;

—that freely, fervently, unitedly, we have laid our humble offerings alongside their noble sacrifices on the altar of Victory—And Peace.

Another opportunity to lend your individual weight to the blow that will shorten the war comes with the offering of Victory Bonds about to be made. Let not the privilege to do your share find you unprepared.

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Commission in cooperation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

MOTHER

Lines composed and written by Mrs. W. Keenan, 122nd Batt., who is now "somewhere in France," to his mother, Mrs. John Turner, of South Oshawa. When the curtain of night is drawn by the stars, And the beautiful moon leaps the sky, And the dew drops of heaven are kissing the rose, It's then my memory flies, As if on the wing of some beautiful dove, In haste the message it bears, To bring a kiss of affection and say, "I'll remember you mother in my prayers."

I have loved you too fondly to ever forget, The love you have sown in me, And the kiss of affection still warm on my lip, Would I could you how true I would be, I know if fortune be fickle or friend, Or if time to your memory were, I know that I love you wherever I roam, And I'll remember you mother in my prayers.

When heavenly angels are guarding the good, And the loved one ordered they in do, In answer to prayers I have offered to Him,

I know there is one watching you, And may his loving spirit be with you through trouble, And guide you till I return, And meet with one who loves you so dear, I'll remember you mother in my prayers.

G.K. 112nd Batt., C.E.P. Reg. No. 681-104, 40 Army Post Office, London.

A thoughtful exchange has the following sympathetic paragraph regarding the clergymen and the general area of high prices: "The present increase in prices has clergymen harder than almost anybody else, excepting somebody like him, whose income is fixed while his outlay is nearly doubled, or his family and himself pinched. Have you thought of this, in connection with your minister? If not, why not think of it now, and do early justice to an uncomplaining friend, who deserves well of you, if anybody in the community does."

The Dominion Government is undertaking various means to keep the Canadian people more fully informed about the war, the Canadian price achievement, and the Government's own program.

is estimated as: Pay and allowance . . . $219,263 86—silence allowance . . . 25,909 Cost of rations . . . 7,500 Maintenance in France . . . 47,800 For capita rate . . . 15,900 Burial services . . . 15,900

CAN STORE POTATOES

The Canada Food Board announces it has an intention of interfering with dealers who habitually store potatoes, apples and vegetables for the requirements of their trade. Considerable loss was sustained last year by potatoes not being harvested before the frost. Early digging and proper storage would save a large quantity of the crop this year.

PLINY OF BUTTER

The Canada Food Board issues the following statement: The present supply of cream, butter in this country, together with dairy butter, which is not touched by the order, will be the only one to fill the demands of the Canadian public under existing conditions, and there is no occasion for alarm or any justification for hoarding or profiteering. There are at present in storage, unaffected by the commandeering order, 20,000,000 lbs. of creamery butter.

CONSERVE WILD FOWL

Set Aside in Western Provinces

A note issued by the Department of the Interior says: Dr. M. Anderson, of the Geological Survey, has left for the West to complete the examination which he began last year of the areas reserved by the Department of the Interior as proposed bird sanctuaries. Twenty-eight of these areas known to be breeding places of wild fowl and other migratory birds are found to be suitable. It is proposed to declare bird sanctuaries and have them adequately protected. The establishment of these sanctuaries is an important step towards greater protection to migratory birds in this country. It is expected that they will be particularly useful in preserving our fast disappearing wild fowl which constitute a valuable food resource and if properly conserved would add to the wealth not only of the present generation but of those to come.

COUNTIES COMBINE ON THE UPBEAT OF ONE JAIL

Referring to the great reduction in crime and the emptying of County Jail as a result of the operation of prohibition, the Acting Free Press says: "There is a movement on foot by County Councils to various places in the Province to amalgamate groups of counties and make provision for one jail in the group to serve the needs of the several counties which thus unite. This will save largely in maintenance, officials, salaries, etc. At the last meeting of Gray County Council a resolution was appointed to meet with representatives of the Counties of Bruce, Oxford and Wellington with a view to effecting an arrangement whereby the counties mentioned may decide on the upkeep of one jail and the expense to be borne proportionately by the four counties, this is a pointer to Ontario to give consideration to the suggestion several times argued by this journal that an effort should be made to combine Ontario, Victoria, Northumberland and Durham in one for this purpose. Lindsay as a centre. We again suggest that the Council take the matter in hand. When in Whitby a couple of weeks ago, the jail authorities informed the Express that as no more had been the attendance at Castle Decker this summer that it was impossible to secure labour to keep various parts of the jail cut. Truly a goodly condition, and something to be devoutly thankful for, but the fact also suggests a big unnecessary expenditure which in this time of mounting taxation for county and other purposes ought to be avoided if possible.

A NATION OF MORAL LEPERS

A fitting punishment for the Kaiser is a subject that is being widely discussed by the newspapers on both sides of the ocean, and many are the ingenious sentences that have been suggested. In discussing the subject it must not be forgotten that today the Kaiser stands indicted for murder in the first degree by three Coroners' juries, which found him personally responsible for the deaths of the innocent victims of Zeppelin raids on England, and it is to be hoped that if the War Lord should escape a well-merited death at the hands of the deluded and heeded peoples, he will be brought for trial on these indictments. But we must not concentrate our just wrath upon the Kaiser alone for the appalling list of German atrocities. Had he not the willing support of the German people these outrages would have been impossible. Had it not been the German people given him a hearty support in carrying out a policy of ruthlessness, he could not have been so successful. He would have been nullified despite all the influence he could bring to bear. In fact it is a good point to remember that he would have dared to issue such orders unless he knew they would be met with a universal approval throughout the Empire. To hold the Kaiser personally responsible for the enslavement of Belgium, for the devastation of occupied France, for the murder of women and children by air raids, and for the slaughter of innocent travellers on the high seas is to waste vengeance upon one offender. True, the Kaiser is the Arch-Villain, but we must remember that he is using instruments for his campaign of desecration, we are the German people. Had they so desired, they could have voted his murderous designs. Therefore, on this day of reckoning we must not forget that the Great Outlaw had voiced the sentiments and feelings of a Nation of Outlaws: that the Kaiser himself did not lead so much as he typified the spirit of his people. To try the German nation for its manifold crimes would be as impossible as the idea of punishing a crowd. But this is made to feel the full responsibility of an outraged nation. The day is coming to chasten their arrogant spirit. They must be ostracized as the Outlaws of Christendom. We must have no dealings with murderers and savages after the war. Already the British nation have promised to do all the German goods for a decade. Is this enough? It will take a century at least to eradicate the venereal weeds of savagery and barbarism which flourish in the very veins of the nation. Trail the spirit of democracy and nationalism is the only way to rid the world of the evil influences they should be segregated from a world of decency—they are unclean.—The Herald.

BIRTHS FALLING OFF

Vital statistics now being compiled by the Registrar General's Department of the Ontario Government show that the number of births in Ontario for 1917 have fallen to the lowest since the beginning of the war. There has been but slight variation in the number of deaths. The figures as compiled by the Dept. are: Births 62,084, a decrease of 2,535; marriages 2,482, a decrease of 998; deaths 32,263, a decrease of 2,812.

To Which We Say Amen!

We fancy that the people of Canada, and particularly the people of Ontario, would be greatly pleased if some of the party politicians and newspaper editors would give the rest of a time from politics. There is no need for it now and most especially in the present emergency. It is bigger and vastly more important to engage their attention and their energies in the war.

The London, Ont., members of the fire brigade are now discussing the advisability of striking for recognition of their status and a settlement of their claims respecting wages and pensions.

PROGRESSIVE FARMING MORE WAR INFORMATION FOR THE PEOPLE

To be informed and up to date, the general progress and advancement in farming, probably no better opportunity is afforded than that of reading the reports of the Dominion Experimental Farms System. This report for the year ending March 31, 1917, has just made its appearance and contains of 150 pages, detailing the experiments and activities that have taken place at all the farms and stations throughout the country. As every farmer is represented, some at three or four different points, practically every section of the country is covered. This information is given, and knowledge can be obtained, not only of the activities in production of every section of the country, but facts regarding results that may be achieved by adopting the latest and most improved methods of farming. The report can be had by every farmer in Canada by addressing the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

The salary of a policeman in Stratford who resigned has been divided up by the Commissioners will be made.

"The idea underlying these proposals is that it is the citizens of Canada who are carrying on the war, and that it is the duty of the Government, as far as it is possible, to keep the people well informed on the necessities of the situation and the measures being taken to cope with them."

Notwithstanding this, a thorough distribution will be required to give satisfaction, otherwise there will likely be a disposition to complain at partiality and expense.

Two physicians of Kingston who were judges in the baby show at the Kingston City on Labor Day say they do not wish to over play the "milk rule" again. They found, says the Globe, "it was not as easy a job as judging dogs." There are some dentists in Ontario who have in recent years learned that no slight risk is incurred in publicly declaring as to the comparative proficiency of youthful education at school fairs and elsewhere. Parents have their children formed before the contest, and no verdict of any mere judges, clothed with official appointment is going to alter that opinion by one jot.

YOUNG MEN ARE WARNED

Nineteen-year old men are warned by the military authorities that they must obey regulations a breach of which renders a soldier liable to court-martial. Attention is drawn to the importance of all men notifying their parents within ten days after attaining their 19th birthday, and also giving notice to the Registrar of their change of address. Those who fail to comply with these regulations are liable, on conviction, to a term of three months in jail with hard labor, a fine of $100 or both.

Capt. Count Bertrand de Lesseps was killed while leading a recruiting party of his regiment before "scoutily."

THE CANADA FOOD BOARD SAYS

Many a club or business man's committee in the towns and cities of Canada could aid greater war-time production on the farms if they were to adopt the "tractor and contractor" idea which has been initiated in Montreal and adopted in Chatham, Ont.

The contractor idea as applied to farming is simply this: A club of business men in a town form a little company, with a capital of perhaps $1,000. They buy a tractor at a cost of about $1,000, and undertake to plow idle land or regular farm land on a contract. They employ a practical man as their contractor, a man who has been used to handling labor and getting things done. The war has altered the activities of many of such men. Railway contractors have been called upon and work has been greatly limited by reason of the demands of the war upon capital, upon labor and upon the energies of the people.

In Montreal, Mr. J. P. Ansell, the well known engineer and building contractor, has undertaken a big tractor work in Kentville, Nova Scotia, and a syndicate of business men has been formed to do similar work in Kentville, Nova Scotia. These examples might well be followed throughout Canada.

USE YOUR DOLLARS

TO END THE WAR

If my dollar will drive the enemy from demoralizing Europe and threatening America, here it goes. I will not let it go any more into a Victory Bond, to help old Canada finance its own war burdens, or secure for Great Britain a plentiful supply of foodstuffs.

For it is not the rich man's pile that counts most. It is the accumulation of purchases made by farmers and rural business men from every part of the country that swells the total and strikes terror to the heart of the enemy.

When dollars can fight, let us wheel every one of them into line. H. Woodford, Editor of the Oshawa News.

Those who make a liberal use of dollars will serve the dual purpose of saving for shipment overseas such articles as food and are it for that purpose and at the same time furnish a useful and valuable food for the household. The apple without mention is the king of fruits, whether fresh, dried, evaporated or canned. It is a wholesome food, easily prepared, attractive and palatable at all times.

Always cook apples in either earthen or granite utensils and use either granite or wooden spoons for stirring. The use of the apple as a basis for all manufactured jam is well known. This is due to the large amount of pectin which is contained in it. There is no waste to a good apple, and the seeds and core may be utilized for jelly. Fruits are classified as favor fruits and nut fruits. The apple comes under both of these heads.

Extract from a little booklet issued by the British Empire Food Council, Department of Agriculture giving 160 recipes for the use of the apple. The booklet may be had free on application to the Publications Branch, Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

FAIR FOOD PRICES

How will the fair price food project work? In essence it is fairly told. Each municipal area having appointed its committee, will take evidence, exactly as at a public inquiry. From this it will learn the average price at which merchants buy their local factors into consideration, the committee will then decide on a fair price which the consumer should pay. This must be the retailer a reasonable profit. If the findings do not conform to the notion of the majority of consumers

NATIONAL FISH DAY

October 31st is National Fish Day. It is the new national day which its benefits ought to be as well known as Thanksgiving. The intention is to make known the tremendous wealth of our Canadian seas and lakes, now largely lost to waste because people's tastes have run toward meat. At present the annual value of Canadian fisheries is $12,000,000 or only about one-eighth of a dollar a week for each person. Forty years ago it was $15,000,000. The fish industry and fish consumption have not kept pace with the general progress of the country. A revival is long overdue. The average price of fish is about one-half that of meat, so that the housewife who insists upon eating fish from her local dealer could give a right direction to the thought of the people respecting fish in the ordinary home diet. Eat Fish Oct. 31st.

Consumers will be made acquainted with fair prices by means of statements, usually in table form, published in the local newspapers. These prices given below were those in force in Massachusetts counties during the week beginning Oct. 3rd.

Flour, rye, retailer pays $10.75 and $12.50 per barrel; consumer should pay 6 to 7 1/2c per lb.

Flour, barley, in bulk, retailer pays 19.50 to 21.50 per bushel; consumer should pay 6 to 7 1/2c per lb.

Sugar, granulated, consumer should pay 10-11c per lb. Canned salmon, retailer pays 22 to 23.50 per 1 dozen cases; consumer should pay 20-24c per can.

Potatoes, white, retailer pays $2.50-2.85 per 100 lbs.; consumer should pay 3-4c per lb.

In the district, they have the means of verifying the committee's action, or of having it immediately revised in the light of local knowledge.

It is not this the essence of local self-government, carried out a step farther than has ever yet been done in Canada?
